For All The Right Reasons

As human beings we are faced with choices and decisions every day of our lives. It is a given that we will make good ones and bad ones in our life time. As a small child we rely on our parents to make these choices for us, when to eat, what to eat, what to wear, what time to go to bed, etc. Parents make these choices based on what they believe is in the best interest of the child. Safety, well being and learning or growth experience. Right reason. It is nice not to have the responsibility for some choices. As we get older our parents let go of those decision and allow us to experiment with those choices. We learn that there is reward or consequence for what we choose. It is nice to have that freedom to choose. Our growth is based on a mix of having the chance to make choices that we can and not having to make a decision that we are unqualified to make.

The choices that we make are based on many factors. Past experiences that have resulted in success or failure. What are the risks involved in one choice over another. What is to be gained by our choice? How will it affect others? Will there be consequences now or down the road. Every time we decide on something, we have either given a great deal of thought, or have just done what has come naturally. How often do you make a choice, because it is the right thing to do? How often is your choice been for selfish reason or for greed? Wrong reason. How often have you made a choice to simply draw attention to yourself or for personal accolades? Wrong reason. How often have you made a choice to just fit in with the crowd or for acceptance? You decide.

We are fortunate that Frank Cheley decided to build a place just for young people to grow and build character and resiliency. Did he really know how important it would be to act spontaneously in the right? His focus has held up over the years.

Carole and I recently had a chance to visit and see first hand a new camp that is an extension of Frank's dream. The camp is called the Painted Turtle. It is located near Valencia, California at Lake Hughes. It is designed to serve special needs children with a variety of health needs. They include things like kidney disease, Crohn's and colitis, little people, diabetes, liver transplants and hemophilia just to name a few. As you can imagine their medical facilities need to be state-of-the-art as well as fun. The layout of the camp needs to meet all these special needs. It is an amazing place with a special energy and heart.

It is clear that this comes from its founder. Page Hannah Adler was a camper at Trail's End along with her brother and sister. When she was 23 she volunteered to work at Paul Newman's Hole in the Wall camp in Connecticut. She introduced many of the things that she had learned at GTE - songs, traditions, etc. She also remembered that at GTE it didn't matter what you looked like, what you wore, where you came from, how smart you were, or how good you were at the activities. It mattered that you were real and did things for the right reasons. It was a place that she felt accepted no matter what. She and her husband Lou have taken this dream to another level. They have contacts with people that also believe it could be done. It is clear that Page made this happen not to be in the spotlight but to do what is right for these children. Our hats are off to Page and her team for making good things happen for these children.

Paul Weidig Returns to Cheley's Year-Round Staff

We are excited to announce that Paul Weidig has joined the year-round team. Paul has been associated with Cheley Camps since 1977. Jack Cheley hired Paul as a crafts counselor for Ski Hi and Haiyaha. Paul claims he was the first male staff member to have a ponytail (since then we have a written grooming policy).

Paul brings so much to the year-round team. He has a wealth of knowledge and experience with Cheley. He has been a counselor, an assistant director (in Ski Hi with Bill Kalbac and in Lower Ski Hi with John Haefeli), a Director (Haiyaha), the first Crafts Coordinator, the first Boy's Camp Director, and has lived at camp throughout the winter when he ran Discovery with Bob Essin (ask him about dragging supplies from the storeroom on a piece of plywood after two feet of snow to prepare for an incoming group). Paul is an accomplished musician and teacher. He has been teaching string instruments since 1985.

Paul will have his hands full with the staffing process, partnering with Jeff and Don, and focusing on infusing the Cheley Spirit throughout the year in everything we do. Welcome Paul!

Update from Sarah at the Enrollment Desk

Second term is filling fast. We have a wait list started for Haiyaha, GTE and Senior Chipeta. We have some beds left in the remaining units. First term units are also filling quickly. We are very close to full in Senior Chipeta. If you have family or friends who are interested in Cheley for the summer of 2007, don't hesitate to have them contact us as plans always change and spaces open up. We are happy to send out packet to new families as well.

"Missing" States!

Our goal to have campers from all 50 states is ongoing. So far we are doing quite well. We are currently missing the following states: Alaska, Delaware, Maine, Rhode Island, South Carolina, South Dakota and West Virginia. We have campers coming from all over the world including Northern Ireland, Great Britain, France, Switzerland, Mexico, the Bahamas, Japan, Sweden, Singapore and Bermuda. We love the diversity that campers from different states and different countries bring to camp.

CHELEY PACK RAT

is published four times a year by Cheley Colorado Camps to keep the Camp Family informed – send us news and information about you and your friends. The PACK RAT is mailed free of charge to all current campers and staff, as well as to lifetime and annual members of "Cheley Friends." Others who are interested may get an annual subscription by sending their name and address with a check for $15 to PACK RAT Editor, Cheley Colorado Camps, 601 Steele Street, P.O. Box 6525, Denver, CO 80206.

Jason Kensey writes to say that since leaving Cheley and the Kellogg Company he has founded his own business. Vroom Foods makes energy mints and chocolates. His company is based out of Costa Mesa, CA where he lives. This sounds like the perfect thing to take on a gorgeous Cheley hike!

Ellie Klebe Has Turned One

Ellie turned one on December 5th. She has had an eventful year of growing and learning. She is pointing everywhere, telling us about things in her language, and entertaining us daily. She loves to see other children, so she will be in heaven this summer. Uncle Jeff is working hard to get her to say, "Uncle Jeff is my favorite uncle." Brooke is training this winter to chase her around camp all summer.

Samantha (Hales) Black married Doug Black and is now living in Atlanta, Georgia. She is working as a marketing consultant and has enjoyed posting the Trigger Bill cards on her fridge as a reminder from her years at Cheley.

Eva Barnes has moved into a new community in Boise and is enjoying yard work and settling in.

Jeremy Gottshall married Julia Ann Munoz in 1999, graduated from Texas A & M University and moved to Germany. Their daughter Emily Claire was born in 2004. He is currently serving a second year-long tour in Iraq. He earned a Bronze Star in 2003.

Ginger (Marsh) Armbrust just celebrated her 10th wedding anniversary with husband Paul and has two children Paul 5½ and Iliana 2½. She is teaching 7th grade math in Salina, KS.

Sarah Calhoun (counselor in 1999) recently started a new business called Red Ants Pants, which is the first ever company dedicated to manufacturing workwear for women. She is based out of Montana and can ship her fabulous workpants anywhere! Check out the website at www.redantspants.com. Congratulations, Sarah!

Christy Gigliotti was married a year ago September in Moab and has just bought a house with her husband. She is teaching full time in Fort Collins and is in a Master's program.

... Wedding Bells ...

Christopher Kremp wed Dixie Norris on October 14th and they are now starting a new life together in New Mexico.

Emma Gilmore was married November 4, 2006. She keeps in touch with many Cheley friends and is currently living in Washington, D.C., attending American University and raising money for Capitol Hill Day School. She hopes to visit Cheley soon.

Cassie Johnston married Jason Weber on September 2nd in Estes Park at the Wild Basin Lodge. They are now making their new home in Columbia, Maryland.

Charlotte (Charlie) Barrett and Sean Patrick Fallon were married in San Antonio, Texas on December 2, 2006. It was a movie themed service in the same church Charlie's parents were wed. Charlie was happy to bring many Cheley friends to Texas for the celebration, including bride's maid Alexandra Matthews.

... New Little Campers ...

Sarah (Webb) Miley and Ethan Miley welcomed son John Gatchell on May 15, 2006. John has been enjoying his mother singing all the hits from the Cheley. So far, his favorite song is "I Know A Place" and his favorite hike (in the backpack) is Lake Isabelle.

Murray Cizon and wife Christa greeted their first child, Margaret, on October 19th. Murray is working at Lewis and Clark College with the Graduate School of Education and Counseling.

Laura (Lancaster) Triplett and husband Joe welcomed twins Jolee and Georgia on September 23, 2006. We are happy to say mom, dad and the "Triplett Twin's" are doing great.

Katie Lipa-Stutz and her husband Andy welcomed their son Coulter Cash Stutz to the world on September 4th 2006 (Labor Day!). She writes, "I love to rock him to sleep while singing unit songs, taps and other favorites. I can't remember all of the words all of the time, but he doesn't seem to mind. I can't wait until he is old enough to enjoy family camp - then Lower Ski Hi in 2015.

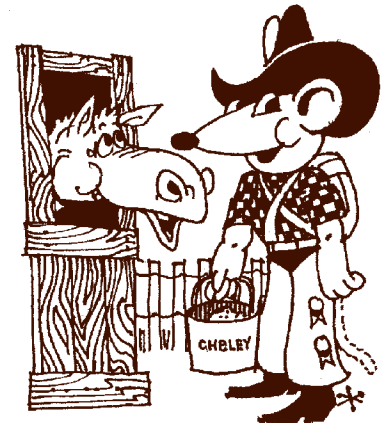

Introducing www.cheley.com

Cheley Camps has been working hard for over a year to completely redesign the Cheley website. With Asher Studios, a Denver graphic design firm, Elizabeth Johnson, site map designer, Carole Cheley, project manager, writer and editor, Rebecca Lee Westenhaver, professional writer, and Doug Hays, web technical designer, a completely new web site has been developed that is user friendly, beautiful, informative, and has the Cheley spirit shining on every page.

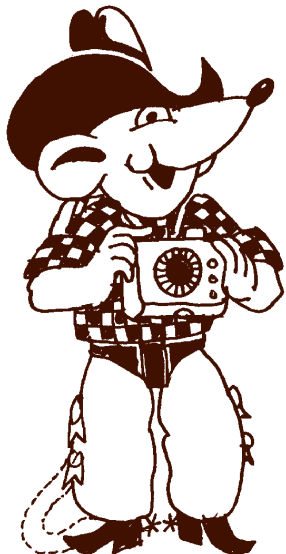

The new website will have specific information for campers, parents and alumni combined with current photos from the past two summers. This new site communicates our professionalism and the rich history and traditions of the Cheley Experience.

We are planning to have the new site live after the first of the year, and will let you know when the all new www.cheley.com is launched. Nice work everyone!

Fall Discovery ... Exciting!

Headed by Program Director, Alyse Baker, Fall Discovery this year was as exciting as ever! Outdoor education is the name of the game in the months of September and October and thanks to our trusted crew all our groups were able to catch the Cheley Spirit. Schools and private groups from all over the Denver Metro area and a couple of schools from Texas come to Cheley to participate in our "Discovery" Program. While here, students/participants live at camp and learn such things as: Leave No Trace principles, orienteering, team building strategies, and some even get the opportunity to go on a five day backpack!

Brett Swanson (Crew Leader), Alexa Popcheff, Melissa Ebone, Cicily Hartman, Sarah Stratton, Peter McLennan, Zack Hamilton, and Nick Stasi were the guts behind the glory. However, they would not have been able to produce such a wonderful program if it weren't for the backbone; our Year Round Food Service Director, Ruthann Holle who headed up the kitchen along with the assistance of BTE Cook Kathryn Canganelli. Bo Winslow, Kevin Hendrix, and Mike Supinski were always the helping hand for us when we needed anything whether it was transportation, building maintenance, or the occasional locked door.

We were very lucky this fall to have such a strong crew and enthusiastic groups. The mountains are unbelievably beautiful in the fall and if you or anyone you know would be interested in either bringing a group to Cheley or working Fall Discovery, please contact Alyse at Alyse@cheley.com.

The World Burn Conference

Cheley Camps was chosen to host the 2006 World Burn Camp Conference. As one of the original Burn Camps in the nation, Cheley was excited to share our experiences with staff and directors from around the country. We had participants from Canada, Great Britain, and twenty-two states. During the three-day conference, Cheley staff and other experts in the field presented strategies to operate a quality program for burn survivors.

Over the years, Cheley has created a strong partnership with Children's Hospital, Denver Firefighters, and the Denver Firefighter's Burn Foundation. Through this partnership, the Cheley/Children's Hospital Burn Camp has become one of the most respected programs in the country. We enjoyed sharing some of our secrets with camps from around the world.

Cheley Camps Is Offering a National Leadership Camp

Since 1955, Cheley Camps has been hosting a National Leadership Conference for Student Council leaders. Last September, the National Association of Secondary School Principals decided to discontinue the program.

We believe in the impact of the leadership camp so Cheley accepted the responsibility to continue the tradition. We have combined the knowledge of some of the leaders in Student Council Executives from around the country with our own expertise in youth development that we have developed since 1921 to create a powerful program for student leaders.

Last summer we had over 45 campers from around the country come to Cheley for 5 days of leadership training in the middle of August. Students learned about goal setting, teambuilding, and leading their fellow students.

Hunter Chamberlain, a camper in Haiyaha, attended the leadership camp and has been elected Vice-President of his class. Cheley will offer this program again to middle school and high school students this summer from August 8th to August 13th.

If you or any of your friends are interested in attending the National Leadership Camp at Cheley, check out www.NationalLeadershipCamps.com for more information.

Bo Winslow Named President of Certified Horsemanship Assn

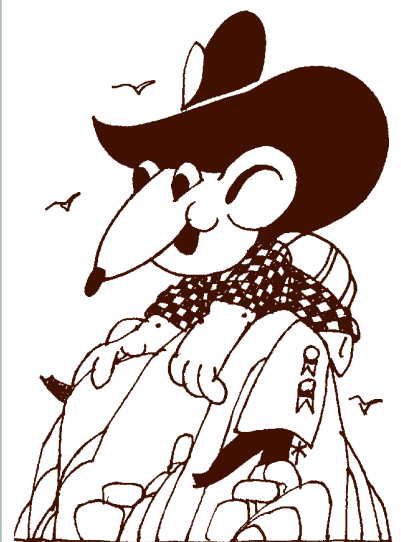

Bo Winslow was elected president of the Certified Horsemanship Association (CHA) for the 2007-2009 term at the association's annual conference held in Fort Collins, Colorado, in September.

Bo has been with Cheley since 1985 as Horsemanship Director and Site and Facility Manager. Over the years, he has worked with horses in many capacities including; breeding, training, taking groups on rides, and barn management. Cheley has five riding arenas and owns 150 horses. Cheley's riding program focuses on good horsemanship, control, riding form, having fun and safety.

Due to that concern of safety, Bo became active on CHA's board of directors and has been a member of many working committees. He has been involved with CHA since the mid 1980s.

He is a CHA Trail Clinic Instructor, which means he certifies trail guides that attend CHA trail certification clinics around the continent. Winslow is a captain at his local fire department and is a deacon at his church. In his spare time, he enjoys working in his wood shop. He and his wife, Lauri, and their children, Justin and Nicole, live at the ranch.

The purpose of CHA is to promote excellence in safety and education for the benefit of the horse industry. CHA certifies instructors and trail guides, accredits equestrian facilities and provides support and educational resources. For more information on the Certified Horsemanship Association, please visit www.chaahse.org – or call toll free 1-800-399-0138.

“Dodging” Bear Lake Roads ... A HISTORY SNIPPET

IT is not very far to Bear Lake after all, according to the old adage which says, “it’s a long road which has no turning.” One boy told me that it would make a fishworm dizzy to climb the Bear Lake Road. Nevertheless, there is a summer camp for boys up on the top, at the end of that road – right square in the lap of Hallett’s Peak that the world is hearing about, and although some of our good parents felt our road was impassable, the Chief in his old gas buggy did over three thousand miles from camp to town and back during the summer with loads of every conceivable sort, from green campers to green vegetables, and from ice cream for boys to Omaline for horses – passengers, mail, laundry, boots that had lost their soles, swimming gangs, instructors, camp outfits, Long’s Peak hikers, mammas, aunties, neighbors, harness, eggs, dads, bananas, telegrams, bows, arrows, hay, trunks, church-goers, cakes, love letters, and suits to be cleaned and pressed, made up the “freight” for the summer.

Sometimes we met ourselves coming back. Each hill had its own rattles and each curve its thrills, as you would meet a caravan of Red busses, perhaps loaded with Chipeta-ites.

Still, the old Dodge was our sure connection with the great world out beyond – rain or shine, night or day, it was always on the way. Why, my old car knows the Bear Lake Road so well that if you should start it down the hill empty it would negotiate all the switchbacks 100%, go right to the postoffice, then the Creamery, then the Transportation office and likely get halfway home again before it could be arrested for careless driving.

Once we scared a Red Bus off the road, many times we scared deer off the road and often caught up with a snowshoe rabbit doing a four-forty down the valley. If the horn wouldn’t honk, the whistle would, and the rattles gave everybody at least a chance for their lives.

So we Dodged the Bear Lake Road for the third successive season without accident of any kind, for which we are very grateful.

The contractors are at work on the new 5% road and promise it completed by October of 1927. We can then go to town on a bicycle – and hike back.

The Chief Dodger.
